Alarm of Fire.

One Woman Prevented from Leaping from the Fire-Escape.

The New Fire-Alarm Gongs Put to a Practical Tem.

Carlin sent out an alarm from the street box. Barcy saw a woman standing on the railing of the fire-escape at the first story, who was evidently preparing to Jump. He rushed up to her and dew her fack into the room. She was clad only in a night-dress, and wore big diamonds in her ears and diamond rings. She was badly frightened, but Barry induced her to believe there was no danger.

There were two more women on the balcony at the second story, who were also badly frightened. Barry ran up the ladder and induced them to go back into their room, which they did reluctantly.

back into their room, which they did reluctantly.

In the mean time, while the guests, among whom were a number of the attrical people, were rushing here and there in their excitement. Engineer Lavery and some of the help were fighting the flames.

The closet where the blaze originated was used by the chambermaids for storing cleaning utensils. Although it burned pretty lively for a while the help in the hotel succeeded in putting out the flames before the firemen came.

It is not known how the fire started but it is supposed that a match may have been dropped carelessly in the closet. After the excitement was over the guests went back to sleep.

Manager John H. Burgh said this morning that the damage was slight. He had no doubt as to the ability of the fire-goings to arouse guests from sumber. The only danger is that they are likely to frighten people to death.

Several small fires were reported during the night. There was a slight blaze at 772 Eleventh avenue. It was caused by a lamp falling from a table. An old mattress caught fire in the basement of the flat 304 Columbus avenue. It was caused by a lamp falling from a table. An old mattress caught fire in the basement of the flat 304 Columbus avenue. The bare idea of being able to secure a $5 percale or chaile dress of the latest style for $1.47 a $7 cashmere tea gown for $3.95; a $23 Singer sewing-machine for $5.98, and other equally astonishing bargains, is enough to throw all the housewives in New York into a panic.

The panic is even extending to the men, who are not forgotten in the list of many opportunities. There is no reason why a man should go without socks, suspenders or nightshirts when he can buy them at Hoomingdale's as low as 5, 10 and 35 cents, respectively.
